

March/April 2012

O V N I

JOURNAL OF THE PHENOMENON RESEARCH ASSOCIATION

£3 UK: EU:5 Euros incl: pp "At The Cutting Edge"

Members Free

OVNI

The Journal for the discerning researcher

Cover Design: David Sankey

Group Leader

Omar Fowler
94 The Circle,
Sinfin, Derby.
DE24 9HR

March/April 2012

E-Mail: Bontor@aol.com

Tel: 01332 761464

Secretary

Karen Richardson

(Derby)

Tel. 01332 558662

Meteor 'fireball' spotted in night sky across UK

(Guardian Sunday 4 March 2012)

Police were inundated with calls as 'orange glow' is sighted by people from northern Scotland to Devon

PA/The Huffington Post UK First Posted: 4/03/2012 07:18 Updated: 4/03/2012 11:38

A meteor seen in the night sky on Saturday night (3 March 2012) across the country, prompted dozens of calls to police from people who feared an aircraft was in trouble.

Police forces across the UK have received numerous calls after a large fireball, thought to be a meteor, was spotted in the sky. Reports of a "bright light" and an "orange glow" were received by police across Scotland and the north of England at around 9.40pm on Saturday 3rd March.

The Met Office tweeted: "Hi all, for anyone seeing something in the night sky, we believe it was a meteorite." The Kielder Observatory also reported the sighting of a "huge fireball" travelling from north to south over Northumberland at 9.41pm.

The observatory posted on Twitter: "Of 30 years observing the sky fireball best thing I have ever seen period."

Dr David Whitehouse, an author and astronomer, said: "Judging by its brightness, it may have been large enough to survive and hit the ground but until people work out its trajectory we won't have any idea where it might have come down." Whitehouse said the object was about the size of a fist and was probably the debris of a planet that never properly formed. "It's a chunk of rock that's probably come from somewhere between Mars and Jupiter has been in space for thousands of millions of years."

Sir Francis Crick: Food For Thought

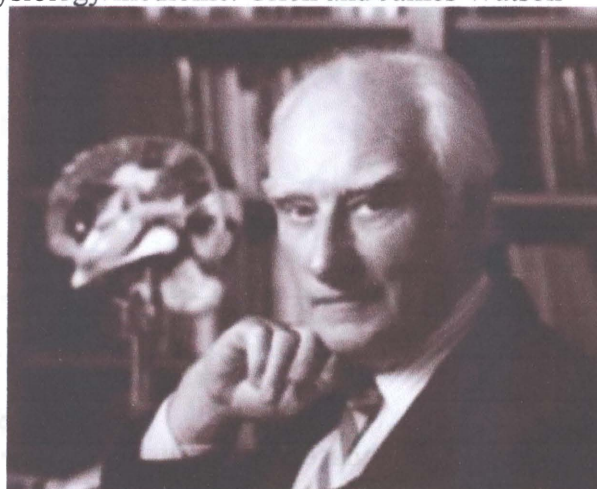

Crick the discoverer of DNA won the Nobel Prize for physiology/medicine. Crick and James Watson showed that each strand of the DNA molecule was a template for the other. During cell division the two strands separate and each strand s -- other half" is built, just like the one before. This way DNA can reproduce itself without changing its structure. DNA's discovery has been called the most important biological work of the last 100 years, and the field it opened may be the scientific frontier for the next 100.

Sir Francis Crick stated it best:

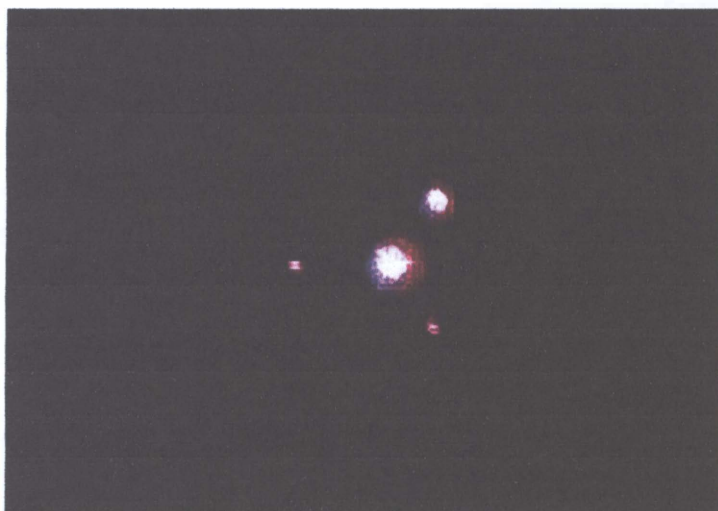

"Life did not evolve first on Earth; a highly advanced civilization became threatened so they devised a way to pass on their existence. They genetically-modified their DNA and sent it out from their planet on bacteria or meteorites with the hope that it would collide with another planet. It did, and that's why we're here.

The DNA molecule is the most efficient information storage system in the entire universe. The immensity of complex, coded and precisely sequenced information is absolutely staggering. The DNA evidence speaks of intelligent, information-bearing design.

Complex DNA coding would have been necessary for even the hypothetical first so-called 'simple cell (s). Our DNA was encoded with messages from that other civilization. They programmed the molecules so that when we reached a certain level of intelligence, we would be able to access their information, and they could therefore -- teach" us about ourselves, and how to progress. For life to form by chance is mathematically virtually impossible."

Recent Unexplained Photographs

Hi Omar, Attached is a 'still' taken from a video of a recent flying triangle over Mablethorpe.

Peter Gregory 8th March 2012

UFO sightings - This strange unknown object was filmed over Thames Estuary in London, UK on Sunday, 5th February 2012.

More UFO's seen near Durban, South Africa

From Dave Harvey SA

FROM THE AMANZIMTOTI AREA NEAR DURBAN

Name: Monica Sighting Location: South Africa.

Sighting Time & Date: 23rd December 2011

Sighting Details: I was on holiday in Amanzimtoti over Christmas with my mom and dad and while out on an evening stroll on the 23rd at 20:05 we saw an orange light in the sky over the sea – too high for a helicopter and too low for an airplane – and it didn't make a sound.

As it disappeared into the partly cloudy sky, it was followed by 4 more orange lights (at equal distances and moving at a "slowish" speed) with a green light flashing at the top – and 2 head lights – again no sound from any of them.

I only had a cell phone with me and I tried to photograph one – but it came out blank until I enlarged the pic ... !! In the centre of the screen is a skull-like image in a black frame – I know that these enlargements can affect the pixels etc but this is really weird – I will try to send to you as soon as I figure out how to download it !

The fourth one made a sudden 90 degree turn, changed into a bright emerald green and sped off at a phenomenal speed. It was not possible to identify the shape of these "things" as this was hidden by the orange glow – the lights were not those of a conventional aircraft – and the silence

On the 31st at 23:50 I was at my sister's home in Edenvale (Jhb) and we (approx 20 of us) saw the same formation of 5 lights – although these were higher in the sky (definitely NOT fireworks – and most of us, believe it or not, were sober !!) I left approx ½ hour later to go home (also in Edenvale) and saw 2 more lights over the Sandton area and 2 more over my home as I was locking up.

On both occasions it had rained earlier in the day and it was partly cloudy (not overcast) In KZN, we thought they may have been part of an air show but there wasn't anything advertised – we ruled out the possibility of a laser trick due to the visible headlights.

The silence and speed of these things is what had us amazed –and the feeling that overcame us was somewhat spooky to say the least Someone mentioned Chinese lanterns ? although this is unlikely ! We have never experienced anything like this and are interested to find out more.

Just for the record, I am 49 and my folks are both in their early 70's (all very healthy and of sober habits) – my dad is in engineering and knows "conventional" aircrafts.

Update: 11/01/2011 Just an additional note : the sightings on New Year's Eve may have been the much talked about Chinese lanterns as they were very high up and it was difficult to see HOWEVER the things we saw on the 23rd December 2011 were flying much lower and it would have been very easy to see if these were "lanterns" – they most certainly were not.

Athlone Park Report

23 February 2012 | Jenny Bipat : A resident, Tony Mills who was sitting on his porch noticed the aircraft between 8pm and 8.10pm. "It was not a passenger aircraft, possibly military but it was brightly lit with amber and red lights," said Tony.

The aircraft flew inland between Isipingo and Athlone Park and soon afterwards he noticed a bright orange light rising into the atmosphere.

Continued over page

Tony only noticed the aircraft as he usually looks at out sea as the tankers anchor off Athlone Park. He is intrigued by the sighting and wonders if anyone else noticed it.

Tony contacted the Air Force Base & King Shaka Airport but did not get any answers about the aircraft..

Wellington SA

Hi, I live in Wellington South Africa. Last Sunday, on the 29th January 2012, 2 friends and myself came driving home from cape town after dropping of one of their girlfriends there.

We were on a free way when I noticed a very odd and low flying aircraft. At first I didn't mention anything to them, but as we came nearer I noticed that it stopped moving at that it was hovering above a house about a hundred meters to our right. I immediately called their attention to this where about all three of us started freaking out.

This was about 22:00 the evening. We were moving in the opposite direction. I then said, lets turn around and pull over, but before we could get a chance to, it started moving again.

We took the next corner and when we turned back to see if it was heading towards the airport it was gone. A few minutes on wards in the same direction to what we were travelling we saw it again. Which was really strange since we saw it flying off into the opposite direction to what we were going.

Again it stopped and jst hovered in the air for about 30 seconds and about 200 meters above the ground. Only after we got home we realised amongst ourselves that on both occasions there was no sound or the slightest noise coming from this "aircraft", this being insane since we were just 200 meters from it on both occasions.

Someone please tell me what the heck that was!

Editors Comment: There appear to be numerous UFO 'Hot Spots' throughout the world and they have also been recognised in the UK, that has its fair share. At the present time, Glastonbury is emerging as a centre of UFO activity, possibly attracted by noise, lights and the thousands of people attending the music festivals! Bonnybridge in Scotland has also produced some fascinating UFO footage in recent years.

In the last five years, 27 calls have been made to police reporting alien events in Somerset, with sightings near Glastonbury and Street. The calls include general sightings of UFO's aliens and 'alien possession'

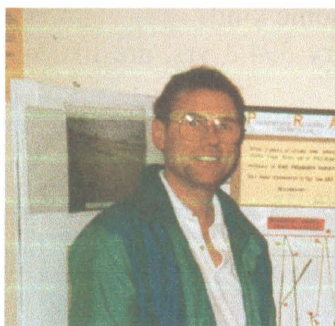

Avon and Somerset police said some of these calls were likely to be hoaxes. Chief Inspector Kevin Rowlands told the 'Central Somerset Gazette', who obtained the figures "We are aware that some of the calls that may seem bizarre, mask an underlying need from the caller."

Dave Harvey's (SA) Comment:

With regards to the UFO sightings around the southern Durban area it makes you wander if some thing is going on there. You might remember I sent you the report about the Minnar family & you interviewed Linda (the Mother) they live in Amanzimtoti.

I know of a few people in my area including myself who have witnessed UFO's & we are approx 120 Km's south of Durban. It would just be interesting to find out if the International UFO community think much about it or know of any reason as to why there is activity in this area.

Prediction 2012

By PRA member Richard Servante

Hollywood hype and hysteria has a lot to answer for!
With so much conflicting information causing so much confusion I feel a bit of clarification is called for.

To this end I've combined relevant information about the Long Count Mayan calendar with a few strands of conventional Astrology.

As for the 'Doom and gloom' predictions surrounding the world of money markets, Politics and religion, I feel these things are best left to the 'experts!'

Firstly, the Mayan calendar.

The Mayans had not one, but many kinds of calendar.
One variety, used to evaluate significant factors over extremely long periods of time was, logically enough, called the 'Long count.'

I don't pretend to know all the technicalities involved but, for me, the main point is that the long count calendar measures extensive time periods in cyclic form.

These cyclic forms are sub divided into many variously named time periods.

For the purpose of this article, however, we will concern ourselves with just two.

These are the Katun - which equals 19.7yrs. and the Buktan - which equals 20 katuns = 394.3 solar yrs.

Now here's the thing - The Mayan fifth age of Man - 5,125yrs (Approx.) comprises 13 Baktuns.

This Age ends 'officially' on December 21st 2012.

A new Age, starting with Baktun 14, then begins. Simple!
Perhaps being fifty years ahead of their time is the only thing Hippies got wrong!

Astrological events seem to be very much in tune with Mayan thinking, not just with the exact date (21/12/12) but also the fluidity of change throughout the year.

I think the following words of Mahatma Gandhi capture this cosmic moment so well.

“Be the change you want to see”

Continued....

The first point to note, as a kind of founding principle, is that the end of each Baktun has brought sweeping change and transformation of some kind.

These rolling sequential moments - every 394.3 yrs, are like major signposts on the pattern of world destiny.

There is nothing, in my opinion, to believe the end of this thirteenth Baktun will be any different.

Galactic alignments are nothing new.

They happen every year, but Obla di, Obla da – life goes on!

The big difference that will happen on the next winter Solstice alignment (21/12/12) is that for the first time in recorded human history we shall be looking up at the Milky way from beneath the galactic plane instead of looking down on it from above.

Let me explain....

Imagine our Milky way Galaxy as a 'Platter of Matter' as it is sometimes referred to.

Think of it as a giant saucer containing many wondrous things.

Some we know about, but some we don't.

It's the ones we don't know about that cause our imaginations to run riot so I'll try and stick to facts.

My understanding is that the coming winter solstice alignment intersects with the galactic equator at the centre of a 'supposed' powerful black hole.

Use of the word 'Supposed' in the internet text I was reading shook my confidence a bit but I include this description for completeness.

The planetary alignments themselves I feel more at home with but I feel that subject deserves a fuller explanation.

I will gladly share that information in a future article, should our editor feel there is sufficient interest! In the context of this article, I agree with other Astrologers who see an increasing influence of what we call 'the feminine principle.'

On this point, I feel a personal anecdote will explain the astrological meaning of 'feminine principle.'

A group of us were having a chat in the pub.... (As you do!)

Someone brought up the subject of Astrology – so yours truly waded in!

"Everybody has Feminine intuition" – I ventured.

Suffice it to say that comment triggered a spate of limp wisted jokes and we all fell about laughing!

The truth is that feminine intuition, getting a Hunch about something or someone or using our sixth sense in some way is all about being receptive.

And yes, everyone does have this ability to some degree or other.

For me, the positive news about 2012 is that, according to the Cosmic information available, there will be a marked increase in the use of our sixth sense, which I sincerely feel is an underrated human quality.

Base to fight extra-terrestrial attacks

From the Whitby Gazette 25th January 2012

Rt Hon David Willetts, left, Minister of State for Universities and Science, Wing Cmdr Rayna Owens, base commander of RAF Fylingdales, and Peter Luff, Minister for Defence Equipment, Support and Technology, 'photo op' on their visit to the base on the North Yorks Moors. 120303a Picture by Andrew Higgins 16/01/12

GOVERNMENT ministers visited RAF Fylingdales on Monday to discuss how the base can be utilised to protect the UK from attacks from space. The Rt Hon David Willetts MP, Minister for Universities and Science, and Peter Luff MP, Minister for Defence Equipment, Support and Technology, visited the base to discuss drafting a National Space Security Policy. The policy will address all aspects of the UK's dependence on space, both military and civil, and during their visit the ministers were shown how RAF Fylingdales is primarily used for ballistic missile warnings, but also has a secondary role of space surveillance.

Mr Luff said: "RAF Fylingdales is an important part of the North Yorkshire community and is also a vital component of our national security, helping to provide an uninterrupted ballistic missile warning and space surveillance service to both the UK and the US. "This visit will be of great assistance to us as we work towards a National Space Security Policy, which will consider the challenges and opportunities for both civil and military uses of space, an area of growing importance for the UK."

Accompanying the ministers were members of the National Space Security Policy Team and of the Cabinet office, and they were hosted by station commander Rayna Owens. Wing Commander Owens said: "We were honoured to host such an important visit, key to the National Space Security Policy and the future." In addition to briefing on RAF Fylingdales operations, the visitors toured the Solid State Phased-Array Radar (SSPAR), the Operations Room and made the most of the good weather by viewing the site from the top of the radar building.

The RAF base has had a busy week, as it is currently monitoring the flight of a failed Russian probe, named Phobos-Grunt, which was intended to explore Mars, but instead failed to escape Earth's orbit and is expected to crash back to Earth on Sunday. The majority of the probe is expected to burn up as it re-enters the atmosphere, but up to 30 pieces of debris, collectively weighing around 200kg, could land anywhere across the British Isles or northern Europe.

It's final journey will be tracked from RAF Fylingdales, although they will only be able to predict its landing spot with an uncertainty of 4,000km.

Two Witnesses Report UFO over Prince Edward Island, Canada.

Report from Billy Booth

The following report was made by two professional people who live in Prince Edward Island, Canada.

I was having a smoke on our back deck, and my wife was with me at between 9:30 and 10:00 PM, on Monday the 9th of January. The sky was cloudless and the moon bright, but from above to the west the sky was dark and star-filled, as the moon was far east.

I had my Celestron binoculars out acclimating them as it was very crisp and cold that night, but with no wind and no clouds. I could hear transcontinental planes 30 miles away to the south. My wife pointed out a bright light almost due west. I trained on this light with binoculars. and could see a craft I just assumed was a helicopter, at first. I saw a red light on one side and a green light on the other.

Triangle Shape Noticed There was also a bright, white light; this gave to me the definition of triangle shape. There also appeared to be a dimmer, white LED-like strobe light from within the center of the triangle. Other than the strobe light, the others seemed absurdly bright, yet not blinding. The object rotated 360 degrees without an iota of deviation up and down, or side to side. I was zoomed in considerably; lateral movement would have been obvious.

When it stopped rotating, it pointed our direction a bright light, but not spotlight, just very bright. It became obvious that this was the nose of the craft, as it headed directly to our location and directly above us on our back step. The altitude at this time was about 450 to 500 feet. I later confirmed the altitude by measuring the focus of my binoculars to a duck blind down my river, and it was approximately 550 to 600 feet. The duck blind was in focus, and I had not adjusted my scope since the incident.

As mentioned before, we could hear airliners far south, but barely visible. This object in the 4 minutes of transit was so absolutely quiet, almost eerily so, that we did not discern even the road traffic ourselves or in recording.

Object Draws Near As it approached I saw a triangular, black craft; kind of like a Stealth bomber, wings from nose but straight across tail from wing tip to wing tip (triangular). Its lights were ridiculously bright, but did not seem to emit light (hard to describe) as it was directly above us we could see its belly, even my wife with the naked eye. The craft was moving no more than 30 kph, and suddenly we both could see (as I had to drop the binoculars because of brightness) the entire craft, except its very tips with the lights. Amazingly, it transformed into the whitest and most perfectly spherical ball of white light I had ever seen; it was perfectly round and whitish blue, and only the tips of the craft were protruding. Despite the blinding whiteness of this orb, strangely, the colored lights were also very noticeable. The bright sphere went out, and the craft flashed three pink lights nose to tail (down the center) and then instantly two lights inside the colored lights of the wings, but out from center of the rear light that flashed in the 3 sequence.

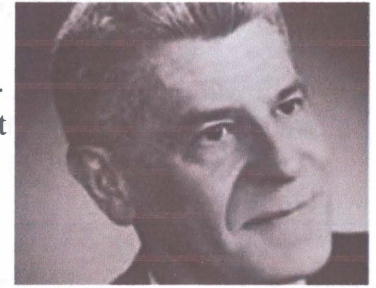

Triangle Visits Cornwall Then it carried on to the east and stopping about a half mile from me, as it went over the rise to the town of Cornwall. It seemed to consciously skirt the town, just do the circumference and come back. We watched this cycle 3 times, and then it went north and we never saw it again. I would say the total time we observed this extraordinary craft within 1000 feet of us was about 5 minutes, and beyond 1000 feet about an hour.

We have video from an iPhone, but wouldn't you know it, it only recorded when the thing was beyond a quarter mile, but did record sound and grey screen the entire time it was over us. You can hear us discuss its soundlessness, the fact we can hear further objects, but for video only the grey screen. I'd be interested if anyone else saw it. The wife and I kind of asked around without sounding crazy, and no one we talked to saw anything. The papers and Google search has shown nothing from anyone else either.

Wilbert Smiths' Top Secret Canadian UFO Memo Now Public

Through the diligent research efforts of researcher Nick Balaskas, a draft of the original "Project Magnet" Top Secret Memo by Director Wilbert Smith, Senior Radio Engineer in the Canadian Department of Transport to his superiors in November 1952. The memo has been recovered from the Archives at the University of Ottawa and represents a different World View.

The memo was the beginning of the Canadian government official program (Project Magnet) to investigate flying saucers that Wilbert Smith headed up from December 1950 to August 1954.

Wilbert Smith had Canadian proof in the reality of flying saucers visiting Earth.

In the memo, Smith outlined five key items about flying saucers that he had discovered while in discussions with top U.S. officials working on the flying saucer problem. These were:

Project Magnet (Top Secret Draft)

1. The matter is the most highly classified subject in the United States Government, rating higher than even the H-bomb.
2. Flying saucers exist.
3. Their modus operandi is unknown but concentrated effort is being made by a small group headed by Vannevar Bush.
4. The entire matter is considered by the United States authorities to be of tremendous significance.
5. The United States authorities are investigating along quite a number of lines, which might possibly be related to the saucers such as mental phenomena.

Purpose

This project is for the purpose of studying magnetic phenomena, particularly those phenomena resulting from unusual boundary conditions in the basic electromagnetic field. There is reason to believe their discovery will open up a new and useful technology.

Organization

The initial organization shall be as small as practical and composed of personnel who are used to working together, including so far as possible a variety of research abilities. Laboratory facilities are to be drawn from existing facilities so far as possible. Overall responsibility for the project shall rest with the engineer-in-charge, who shall delegate such responsibility to subordinates as maybe required to carry out the project.

Program

The initial program shall include the following avenues of investigations, to which others may be added from time to time as may appear expedient.

1. Theoretical study of electromagnetic radiation assuming boundary conditions different from those upon which the conventional theory was developed.
2. Laboratory study of mechanical forces associated with electron drift and electric currents in metallic masses.
3. Theoretical and laboratory study of magnetic domain resonance conditions in magnetic materials.
4. Investigation of the propagation of magnetic wave motion in magnetic materials.
5. Investigate the possibility of producing, an effect, and a "sink" in a magnetic field.
6. Investigate the possibility of producing, in effect, single isolated magnetic poles.
7. Investigate the effects of a magnetic field on a rotating curvilinear metallic object.

Coordination

Full coordination is to be maintained, within security regulations, with other groups working on parallel or associated problems. Project reports will be available on a classified basis to suitably accredited groups of individuals.

Pennsylvania UFOs: By Billy Booth

The following report was made to several UFO reporting sites. I have researched and edited the case to present it here. The event occurred in Linesville, Pennsylvania on November 14, 2010. Pennsylvania is known for a number of UFO cases. The best known is the 1965 Kecksburg Crash, along with the Pennsylvania UFO Wave of 2008, and a 2010 Pilot Report of a UFO near a commercial jet.

There were several witnesses to this sighting, with a man and his girlfriend being the two primaries. While visiting a friend's house on a cold Pennsylvania night, the two, along with some friends were outside by a backyard fire, enjoying a view of the sky.

A Strange Feeling: The male witness had a strange feeling; a feeling of being watched. He walked a short distance from the fire out beside a deserted road to clear his thoughts. In a few moments, he walked back to the fire and brought his girlfriend with him to the road. He wondered if she too, might sense what he did. He told her of his feelings, and she agreed with him. She also felt like she was being watched. As they gazed into the sky, they noticed a star or planet that seemed very bright. He joked with his girlfriend, saying: "Look there they are!"

The Large Triangle: He then sensed or felt a "flash" behind him. He immediately spun around and looked up. He saw an extremely large triangle-shaped object in the sky. He could see stars through the transparent object. The stars behind it looked squiggly, like seeing fish in an aquarium. As the object slowly moved, the stars it uncovered were crystal clear.

He had only a small interest in UFOs, but he had seen reports of triangle-shaped objects before. What he was seeing was totally different than what he previously knew about the triangles. The three points of the triangle left a blue-green trail of light behind them. This light illuminated the entire craft. The large craft was slowly moving, actually lighting up the sky as it went. It made not a sound as it continued across the sky. As he watched the object in awe, suddenly it picked up speed, quickly leaving its image behind as the short streaks of blue-green trail lengthened across the night sky.

He was stunned by what he saw. In only a moment or two, the large UFO had either disappeared or stopped so far away it was not visible to the naked eye. Since the triangle was transparent, it could have stopped, but would not be visible at a great distance from the witness.

A Second Object: What he had seen reminded him of a space ship from "Star Trek" when it went into warp speed. As he gave up on finding the triangle, he turned his attention back to his girlfriend, who was also gazing into the sky. She pointed out the object to him; it appeared to be a star moving rapidly across the sky. At first, the object was moving in a straight line, but then it took a semi-circle direction, as if avoiding something in its path. The turn that the object made was accomplished at the same speed, showing a fluid, quick change of direction. He states that no known plane could have made the manoeuvre.

Soon, the object faded from view. As it did, he asked his girlfriend if she had seen the triangle. She had not, her attention being on the star-like object. He then exclaimed: "No one's going to believe us; that was crazy!" The two were so taken with what they had seen, their attention on the sky was heightened. They spent the rest of the night watching the sky. They saw 14 different airplanes, but no more UFOs. Finally, as day broke, the skies were full of chemtrail.

What were the two unknown objects that our witnesses saw? Why were the planes leaving chemtrail? Is this a coincidence, or could the chemtrail have something to do with the UFOs?

Respected Ufologist Lou Farish Passes Away at 74

Morrilton, Arkansas -- Lou Farish was born April 27, 1937, Died January 26, 2012 and was known and respected for his intelligence and integrity by friends around the world. He retired from both the U. S. Postal Service and the Arkansas National Guard with twenty years of service.

Early in life he developed a curiosity about UFOs and for twenty years edited the UFO Newscipping Service, a monthly compilation of articles about UFOs and directed the Ozark UFO Conference.

A memorial service will be held at the Harris Funeral Home in Morrilton at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, February 4. See www.harrisfuneralhomes.net.

Norman Oliver writes about Lucius Farish

Lincolnshire, U.K. -- Norman Oliver writes, "Having read of the death of Lucius Farish last weeks Filer's Files #5-2012, I would like to tell of my Appreciation' for Lucius. From the late 1960s, I was a Council member of BUFORA - The British UFO Research Association, and edited its Journal for many issues. "I was saddened to learn of the death of Lucius Farish.

Back in 1967 Lou and I commenced a monthly tape correspondence about UFO research and events in each of our countries that lasted several decades. In 1987, Lou took over the role of organizing the UFO Conferences held each April in beautiful Eureka Springs, Arkansas and invited me to be the first British speaker there. I was invited back on seven occasions. I always felt that Lou was, a 'hub' of UFO information, not just in the U.S.A., but worldwide and he will be sadly missed by Ufologists everywhere.

He was both a gentleman and a gentle man and I feel his loss deeply as, I am sure, do many others worldwide. Goodbye, Lou - it was an honour to have known you "Norman Oliver, 'Stepping Stones'.

New Jersey Abduction

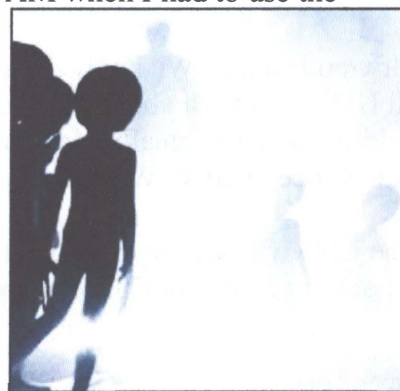

Wood Ridge -- On February 1, 2012, I was sleeping from 11:15 PM to 4 AM when I had to use the bathroom. I was restless and finally fell back to sleep when I had the feeling of being held down.

It was around 5:45 am which is 15 minutes earlier than I usually wake up. I was trying to wake up but I couldn't, I started kicking slowly and tried opening my eyes. I tried screaming, but could not make any noise.

After kicking harder I started opening my eyes and saw that my hands were being held against my chest by a being that was standing on the left of my bed. I kicked on last time and then was able to speak and said, "Get off of me! It started awkwardly running towards my window where it disappeared.

The lights were off but I could tell the being was short around four feet tall and slender like a child, completely naked with no body hair, and dark grey in color. I did not see any facial features.

Thanks to MUFON CMS

President Eisenhower had three secret meetings with aliens, former Pentagon consultant claims.

By Anthony Bond Last updated at 7:58 AM on 15th February 2012 (Mail on line)

Former American President Dwight D. Eisenhower had three secret meetings with aliens, a former US government consultant has claimed. The 34th President of the United States met the extra terrestrials at a remote air base in New Mexico in 1954, according to lecturer and author Timothy Good.

Eisenhower and other FBI officials are said to have organised the showdown with the space creatures by sending out 'telepathic messages'. The two parties finally met up on three separate occasions at the Holloman Air Force base and there were 'many witnesses'. But the claims from Mr Good, a former U.S. Congress and Pentagon consultant, are the first to be made publicly by a prominent academic.

Speaking on Frank Skinner's BBC2 current affairs show Opinionated, he said that governments around the world have been in regular contact with aliens for many decades.

Eisenhower, (photo right) who was president from 1953 to 1961, is known to have had a strong belief in life on other planets.

The former five-star general in the United States Army who commanded the Allied Forces in Europe during the Second World War, was also keen on pushing the U.S. space programme.

His meeting with the cosmic life forms is said to have taken place while officials were told that he was on vacation in Palm Springs, California, in February 1954.

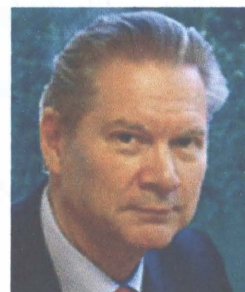

The initial meeting is supposed to have taken place with aliens who were 'Nordic' in appearance, but the agreement was eventually 'signed' with a race called 'Alien Greys'.

Mr Good added: 'We know that up to 90 per cent of all UFO reports can be explained in conventional terms. However, I would say millions of people worldwide have actually seen the real thing.' According to classified documents released by the Ministry of Defence in 2010, Winston Churchill may have ordered a UFO sighting to be kept secret.

The UFO was seen over the East Coast of England by an RAF reconnaissance plane returning from a mission in France or Germany towards the end of the war.

Read more: <http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2100947/Eisenhower-secret-meetings-aliens-pentagon-consultant-claims.html#ixzz1mrSmBx7Q>

'As Ben Rich said, who developed the stealth aircraft back in 1993 in the presence of two friends of mine: "We now have the technology to go to the stars". And that was back in 1993.' When Mr Good was asked to elaborate on where this technology came from, he replied: 'Alien crafts. The studies of alien crafts that have been recovered and by liaising with actual aliens who have helped us develop this technology.

Thanks to Timothy Good.

Trees and Cities on Mars

Thanks to Norman Bryden

Let's prevent NASA and others from obscuring extraterrestrial data for the future of science. There's a point where the preponderance of evidence becomes overwhelming.

Use your abilities to discern between large numbers of organized geometric objects and natural formations. Remember articles will be written to try and convince you no one knows what a city looks like on Mars. Some have their egos and alternate agendas to protect rather than facing the evidence.

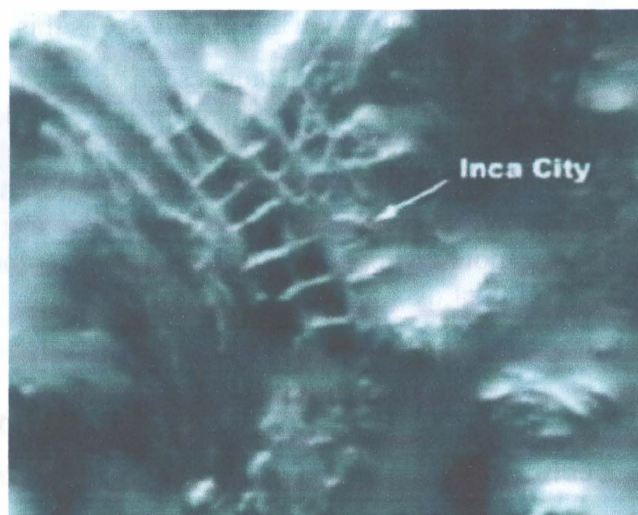

NASA isn't being honest with our world because they don't acknowledge the specific data. Don't believe NASA's misinformation. Use cities and objects on Earth as a comparison to Mars and be honest. Sand, rocks, and ice are not the same as complex buildings and highways.

http://www.msss.com/moc_gallery/e07_e12/full_gif_non_map/E07/E0701717.gif

Mars Inca City

Norman Bryden writes, "With the damage being done to our world don't people think being honest about civilization on Mars would be the smart thing to do? The Martian landscape is quite revealing and says many things about the integrity of the scientific community. Being dishonest about life beyond Earth erodes the public's trust. There's no shame in correcting the error. This area of Mars named Inca City by NASA appears to show intelligent life.

Perhaps it's time to put away the anti-science and get on with the science of Mars and extraterrestrial life for it seems so far no damage to our world is enough for many alleged scientists to admit the facts. If they had the courage and ability they could be open and honest about the data as other worthy scientists have been in the past. The reason science is in such big trouble is due to the dishonesty in the scientific community. Earth has the need to know. Photo is at Latitude 81.50 S Longitude 2 06 W, by NASA/JPL

Tracks on Mars

The verifiable visual evidence clearly demonstrates that we cannot believe even the most basic official Mars data such as the reported atmospheric extreme cold and the 95.35% carbon dioxide. That in turn sets the stage and opens the door through which the open minded can step through for real truth. Notice these tracks on the surface of Mars with an apparent moving object. Thanks to J. P. Skipper

<http://www.marsanomalyresearch.com/>

TALE ENDERS

NASA'S 2013 BUDGET BOOSTS MANNED SPACE, BUT CUTS MARS.

The Obama administration is requesting $17.7 billion for NASA in its fiscal 2013 budget -- down slightly from 2012 levels -- doubling the amount spent on development of new commercial manned spacecraft to ferry astronauts to and from the International Space Station and giving a substantial boost to the delayed and over-budget successor to the Hubble Space Telescope.

PRA MEMBER Trevor Watson died 25th January 2012. Although Trevor was able to attend only a few meetings because of ill health, he maintained an active interest in the subject. The funeral was held at St.Marys Church, Bolton Lane, Derby. Friday 10th Feb.

U.S. AIR FORCE SPACEPLANE MARKS ONE YEAR IN ORBIT

The U.S. Air Force's second X-37B spaceplane marked one year in orbit Monday, continuing its clandestine mission more than 200 miles above Earth. The robotic spacecraft's purpose is secret, Air Force officials acknowledge the vehicle is performing well one year after it blasted off on an Atlas 5 rocket..

COAST TO COAST: On Monday's show, (5 March) author and consultant Pam Oslie discussed her ability to read and interpret auras, as well as evidence for parallel universes, and how we can navigate them. People have different color auras, which she sees as a field or bands stretching out about six feet around them. The bands closest to the body are "life colors" which stay the same, she noted, while the outer bands change in color and reflect passing emotions. To get started in seeing auras, she suggested that you put someone in front of a white background, "and then just kind of look past them with soft eyes, and the first thing you'll probably see is this white glow around their head."

The specific colors of the life auras such as violet, tan, green, and yellow, are associated with different personality types, she explained. For instance, violets are visionaries and dreamers, reds are powerful, volatile, and strong-tempered, yellows are youthful and enjoy fun, greens are willful and tend to be workaholics, and lavenders are sweet, sensitive, and child-like, she detailed. She provides an Aura Quiz on her website to help determine what your true colors are. Based on your individual aura, you'll tend to be more compatible with specific aura color personalities, Oslie said, and to that end she developed the LoveColors online dating site.

A Book by Dr Peter McCue has just been published.

It's entitled Zones of Strangeness: An Examination of Paranormal and UFO Hot Spots.

Details can be found on the Internet, by searching under 'zones of strangeness'

NEXT PRA MEETING

At the Royal British Legion, Allenton, Derby, (DE24 9AF) at 8pm on Tuesday 27 March 2012.

A psychic guest from Ilkeston, Mrs P. Winfield, who will relate some of her 'contactee' experiences, including being shown the '9/11' disaster 3 days before it happened. (confirmed by her family!)

Plus all the latest UFO news and a Free UFO book raffle.

£2 contribution on the night: Non-members welcome

Articles and opinions printed in the OVNI do not necessarily reflect the views of the PRA.

Unless otherwise stated © OVNI articles may be reprinted with due acknowledgement to their source.